UNCLE SAM AND JAPAN

The Latest Advices From the Hawaiian Islands.

BLUE JACKETS WERE DRILLING

When They Were Suddenly Ordered to Return to the Man-of-War Philadelphia—Why the Action Was Taken.

WHY JAPAN ENTERED A PROTEST

SAN FRANCISCO, June 27.—The steamer Gaelic brought the following advices from Honolulu, Hawaii, June 20:

Since the United States man-of-war Philadelphia has been in port weekly battalion drils have been held. On the 14th the men from both the Marion and the flagship were landed. While on the march to the drill grounds an orderly brought an order and the battalion returned on board. This action was taken, it is understood, on account of a rumor to the effect that the Japanese ship Nanaiwa would land a force of men to take charge of the Hawaiian customs house. The Japanese failed to act, and it is believed that Admiral Beardslee's prompt action caused the captain to change his mind. The English speaking people here believe that there was good foundation for the rumor in spite of the denial made at the Japanese legation.

Japanese Minister Shimama denies a story to the effect that Japan has withdrawn its request from the Hawaiian government for an explanation of the reasons for ejecting the Japanese emigrants.

"There has been no correspondence between this legation and the minister of foreign affairs since June 4," said the minister. "At that time I addressed a letter to the minister of foreign affairs, and as yet I have received no reply."

Hon. Harold M. Sewall made a formal call on President Dole at the executive building on the 7th and presented his credentials as envoy extraordinary and minister plenipotentiary from the United States. He was accompanied by Charge D'Affairs Ellis Mills.

A reception was tendered the minister on the 16th. It took place on board the Philadelphia and was well attended.

WASHINGTON, June 27.—The Japanese position on the annexation of Hawaii by the United States has been made known from a very high source. The Japanese base their opposition to annexation almost entirely upon the ground that it is an interference with the treaty rights of Japan, and complain especially that the treaty was negotiated in the face of protestation from Japan and at a time when the Japanese authorities had been led to believe that no such treaty would be undertaken.

They hold that Japan has rights under treaties with Hawaii, including reciprocal immunities, which they fear may not be renewed if Hawaii becomes part of the United States. The present purpose, they hold, appears to be to terminate these rights without a privilege of appeal, and against this proceeding they protest.

A NARROW ESCAPE.

Charles Taylor Falls in Front of a Mowing Machine.

THE HORSES BECAME UNMANAGEABLE

They Ran Away and the Unfortunate Man Was Thrown From His Seat and Dragged a Distance of Fifteen Rods.

BADLY INJURED BUT WILL RECOVER

On Saturday afternoon an accident occurred on one of the Hunter farms, near the Park, which almost resulted in the loss of a human life. As there were many different stories afloat in regard to the matter the REPUBLICAN sent a reporter to the scene, who visited the home of the injured man and learned the facts just as they occurred.

On Saturday afternoon, about 3:00 o'clock, Charles Taylor was out in the field mowing grass; the team of horses which he was driving were colts and were easily startled. Very suddenly one of them became frightened at a load of hay which was passing and gave a lunge; Mr. Taylor lost his balance and was thrown in front of the knives and dragged a distance of 15 rods. With unusual presence of mind he retained his hold on the lines with the left hand and finally succeeded in bringing the horses to a stand still, but not until he had received injuries from which it will take him weeks to recover. The guard pierced his right arm above the elbow and his right side was terribly torn and lacerated by the knives. Robert Henderson and some of his men were working in an adjoining field and as soon as they could they hastened to his assistance. It was with great difficulty that they succeeded in extricating him from his perilous position. He was at once taken to his home and medical attendance summoned in the person of Dr. J. L. Seibert, of Bellefonte. The doctor found it necessary to take several stitches in the young man's side, and although Mr. Taylor suffered great pain he stood it bravely and made no complaint. Although his injuries are very serious he is now resting easy and his recovery is certain.

Charles Taylor is a son of George Taylor, a well-to-do farmer of that locality. He is 21 years old and single.

The above are the true particulars in the case; but a very ridiculous dispatch appeared in some of the city papers Sunday morning, which was a wilful exaggeration and which originated wholly in the fertile brain of someone of our local correspondents. In order that our readers may see how near the truth this correspondent's account comes we republish it without further comment:

"One of the worst accidents that has happened in this county for many years occurred this morning on the farm of Robert Henderson, near State College. George Taylor was the unfortunate man. He was out in the field mowing grass, when his team frightened and ran away. Taylor was thrown in between the horses, and after being dragged quite a distance, tumbled right in front of the cutting bar."

"Before he could extricate himself or assistance could reach him, he was caught in the swiftly-moving knife and literally cut into fragments. The team ran half a mile or more before they were caught, and the entire trail was strewn with Taylor's flesh and blood. Taylor was a married man and leaves a wife and children."

Nearly all summer complaints are due to bad blood and unhealthy bile. Dr. Fowler's Ext. of Wild Strawberry cures by attacking the root of the trouble. It never fails.

DEATH OF DANIEL R. BOILEAU

An Aged Citizen of Milesburg Has Passed Away.

Daniel Robertson Boileau, an old and highly respected citizen of Milesburg, passed away at his home in that place, Tuesday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock, from infirmities incident to old age.

He had resided in Milesburg for the past 38 years, and was a jeweler by occupation. He resided in the house in which he died for 36 years, and for a number of years conducted it as a hotel.

He was born at the toll gate near Milesburg, Centre county, April 23, 1813. He was married to Miss Elizabeth Monahan, June 16, 1836, but she preceded him to the grave fourteen years ago, and on August 24, 1884, he was married to his second wife, Mary Watson, a faithful and devoted helpmete, who survives to mourn the loss of a kind and loving husband.

By his first wife he leaves four daughters and one son, namely: Mrs. Susan Seaman, of Tioga county; Mrs. Annie Wilkey, of Nebraska; Mrs. Hattie Haupt, of Milesburg; Mrs. Mollie McClain, of Fidgway, Pa., and John P. Boileau, of Montana.

The deceased was 84 years 4 months and 6 days old at time of death.

The funeral will take place Friday afternoon, at 2 p. m., from his late residence. The interment will be made in the new cemetery at Milesburg.

Daniel Boileau was of French extraction, his ancestors being found among the Huguenots, who fled to this country in such large numbers, after the revocation of the Edict of Nantes, late in the 17th century. He retired from active business several years ago, with enough of this world's goods to keep him and his family in comfortable circumstances, and with the respect and esteem of all who knew him.

A Bundle Social at Jacksonville.

A very delightful social was held at the beautiful home of Mr. H. C. Allison, at Jacksonville, Monday evening. It was called a bundle social and over one hundred guests were present. The affair was a success in every particular. The house was beautifully adorned with laural and ferns and presented a very pretty appearance.

Miss Dorothy Allison entertained her many friends in a charming manner and by her grace and tact made everyone feel perfectly at home. She is a young lady with a penchant for painting, and her efforts in that line, are certainly remarkable. Little souvenirs were presented to each of the guests, in the shape of a small card, with flowers painted on the front page and the letters C. E. on the last page. They were very pretty indeed. Ice cream and cake were served during the evening. As the time for departure came, it was with reluctance that the guests prepared to leave, all feeling that they had passed a most enjoyable evening.

A MURDER IN A CHURCH

Two Men Are Now Dead and a Third Likely to Die.

A SERIES OF CRIMES IN TEXAS

A Father Shoots the Betrayer of His Daughter and Also the Man's Brother, and is Himself Killed in Return.

THIS ALL OCCURRED ON SUNDAY

DALLAS, June 28.—One of the most sensational tragedies ever enacted in Northern Texas took place in the Methodist Episcopal church, in Pleasant Valley, Dallas, county, twenty-two miles north of this city, in the course of the services Sunday. As a result, August Garrison and Frank Jones are dead and Thomas Jones probably fatally wounded

The Garrison and Jones families are among the most prominent planters in this section of Texas. They own adjoining plantations and have been in the best of social relations for many years. August Garrison was a married man, and had a daughter 16 years old, named Lois. The Jones brothers were single. Frank Jones, for a year or more, had been very partial in his attentions to Garrison's daughter. Recently the girl charged him with having ruined her, under promise of marriage. Garrison swore he would have the life of the the betrayer of his daughter. Mutual friends succeeded in keeping the men apart until yesterday, when the first meeting between them took place.

Garrison and the Jones family worship at the same church. Just as the preacher had taken his text, after prayer and the singing of a hymn. Garrison, stepped to the doorway, it is believed, to get some fresh air, as the atmosphere in the building was oppressive. He had no more than reached the door when the congregation were startled by a fusillade of pistol shots. Nearly a dozen were fired in about as many seconds. When the firing ceased August Garrison and Frank Jones were lying dead in front of the church steps and Thomas Jones was stretched on the lawn near by, one hand clasped on his right thigh and in his left he had a pistol. His right thigh bone in front was shattered by a thirty-two calibre pistol ball that had torn its way down-ward, mutilating the flesh for a distance of six inches.

His statement of the shooting was brief, and in substance that he and his brother, Frank, were approaching the church door and were within ten feet of it when Garrison appeared and instantly drew his pistol. His brother Frank, he said, was hit by the first discharge and before he could draw his weapon, Thomas drew his pistol, opened fire on Garrison in defense of his brother Frank. Garrison, after Frank fell opened fire on him (Thomas.) Frank Jones was shot three times—once in the region of the heart, once in the right side, and once in the head. Garrison received but one bullet and that peirced his heart. Neither man lived long enough to realize his fate.

Parties came to Dallas to arrange for the undertaking details, to report to the sheriff, and to take physicians to attend Thomas Jones, who is not expected to recover from his wounds.

UNDER A STUMP

Did a Centre County Farmer Find Gold Coins.

While Farmer Smull, living in the narrows leading from Union into Centre county, was digging stumps out of a piece of new ground recently he uncovered a purse of gold beneath the roots of a pine stump. It contained but little over $200 in money, but the make of the purse and the date of the coin have caused comment.

The coins were of a date prior to 1820, while the purse, though badly decayed, could be made out to have been of cured buckskin, homemade, and of the kind carried three quarters of a century ago. Farmer Smull is reticent regarding his find, and for this reason some believe the purse larger than stated.

There is no doubt that this is some of the money hidden by the famous robbers, Lewis and Connelly who roamed this section of country 70 years ago. The narrows was one of their favorite haunts, and the finding of this money has given cause to believe there is more hidden in this section.

It has been told by old men that a person standing in the Centre county court house door and looking due west to the spur of the Muncy mountain, can see the exact spot where there is a fortune in gold buried by Lewis and Connelly, but, though many have endeavored to locate it none have ever succeeded. The finding of this money last week will undoubtedly give a new impetus to searchers for the hidden treasure, not only in that county, but in Huntingdon, Bedford, Blair and Mifflin, in all of which the robbers had favorite camping grounds, and, it has been alleged, buried money.—Lock Haven Democrat.

Lightning Struck a Convict Camp.

DAKOTA, Ga., June 28.—During a terrific thunder storm last night the lightning struck a convict camp near here and four convicts are dead, ten are dying and twenty escaped during the panic which ensued. The camp is at the lumber mills of Greer brothers and about 150 prisoners from the state penitentiary were at work there. Last night during supper the storm came up and struck the dining shack, demolishing it. Two of the convicts, negroes, were instantly killed by the lightning stroke; two others, white, died from their injuries a few minutes after, and ten were shocked so badly that they are dying.

About twenty of the felons, seeing their opportunity, dashed past the guards, who were panic stricken, and made good their escape.

A Boy's Long Bicycle Ride.

J. E. Harder and son, Emmott, of Clearfield, started on their wheels Saturday morning at 4 o'clock for a run to Hecla park, near Bellefonte. They were accompanied by George H. Gearhart and George Townsend, who fell by the wayside and took the train for their destinatination, at Port Matilda. Mr. Harder and son kept pedalling away, however, and reached Bellefonte at noon. After an hours rest they finished the run of 7 miles to the park and reached that place in ample time to take the special train home. The distance by wheel was sixty-two miles, which may be considered a big run when it is stated that young Emmott Harder is but ten years of age and that the run was made the day following numerous and copious showers. If there is another ten-year-old boy in the country who can pedal sixty-two miles in eight hours over hills and heavy roads the COURIER would like to hear from him.—Dubois Courier.

Attempted Suicide at Millheim.

Wm. Yearick, aged 45 years attempted suicide at the Musser Hotel, Millheim, Wednesday morning about 8 o'clock by inhaling chloroform through a sponge. On retiring he left a call for 8 o'clock but when the boy went up to call him he found him gasping for breath and black in the face. Two doctors were called in and worked until 12 o'clock before they brought him to. He gave no reason for his act except that he wanted to die. He recently parted from his wife.

DON'T CROWD.

Don't crowd! this world is large enough
For you as well as me;
The doors of art are open wide,
The realm of thought is free.
Of all earth's places, you are right
To choose the best you can,
Provided that you do not try
To crowd some other man.

Don't crowd, proud miss! your dainty silk
Will glisten none the less
Because it comes in contact with
A beggar's tattered dress;
This lovely world was never made
For you and me alone;
A pauper has a right to tread
The pathway to a throne.

Don't crowd the good from out your heart
By fostering all that's bad,
But give to every virtue room—
The best that may be had;
Be each day's record such a one
That you may well be proud;
Give each his right, give each his room,
And never try to crowd.

AFTER MANY YEARS.

"I have brought your tea." It was the voice of the dragoon that roused me from my siesta, as he stood by my deck chair, tea-cup in hand, as wholesome a specimen of young England (five feet eleven in flannels) as you would meet any day between Port Said and the Gulf of Aden. His face showed that he was brimming over with a matter of weighty importance, so I gathered my self together and prepared to listen and advise thereon, for, being an old stager, I was used to the confidence of subalterns.

"Fact is, I've been hard hit," began the dragoon, sitting down on the deck.

"Miss Stanton?" I inquired, sympathetically, for that young woman on her way to marry a planter, had worked havoc among the unappropriated masculine hearts.

"Miss Stanton! No. I mean the woman who sits next you at table, the one with the beautiful eyes."

"My cabin companion, Mrs. Trinder! She is probably going out to join her husband," I added warningly.

"Oh, no. She's a widow. Hunt of the Fourth told me all about it; he has an uncle who has a place close to old Trinder's, and he, Hunt, I mean, knew them well by sight. Old Trinder was old enough to be her father. He made a pile in cotton or something of the sort, and died last year."

"Well, you know more about her than I do. Though she is my cabin companion, I have not found her particularly sociable—"

"That is just it, one does not get any 'forarder' with her; she won't talk to anybody."

"Well, I don't see how I can make her—"

"But if you were to ask her to tea or something of the sort—"

"And ask you to meet her, of course. I don't mind; so be here at four to-morrow," and I proceeded to scribble a note to Hunt of the Fouth, in consideration of his uncle having known old Trinder.

Somehow, that tea was not a success, although the cook surpassed himself in tea-cakes, and that subtle flavor of stewed cockroaches that pervades the ship tea was reduced to a minimum.

Hunt contributed many anecdotes of his uncle (who knew old Trinder), but Mrs. Trinder would not be drawn into conversation.

The sound of the dressing-bell broke up the party, leaving the dragoon baffled in his object, but more in love than ever. He was one of those men who take the complaint seldom, but badly; and Mrs. Trinder, with her slim figure, big eyes, sweet smile and monosyllables, was in his eyes the perfection of womanhood.

"You'll come ashore?" said the dragoon, four hours later, as we steamed slowly into harbor at Aden.

I consented, for a coaling ship is not a delectable place; but, in spite of all-pervading dust, Mrs. Trinder could not be persuaded to accompany us, and we left her surrounded by a swarm of native merchants, who, with unerring instinct, marked her as an easy prey.

The journey to the empty tanks was as jolly and dusty as ever. Having inspected the few trees, we commenced our descent, and in so doing came across the Worst-tempered Man. In the course of an eventful life it has been my misfortune to foregather with many bad-tempered mortals, but this one could give points to any two other men of my acquaintance.

He was an ill-favored, unwholesome looking individual, with puffy cheeks and watery eyes, betokening a too great affinity for the insinuating peg. His carriage had come to grief on the road, and he was standing among the debris apostrophizing. From one or two expressions borne after us on the breeze, we learned with sorrow that he was to be a fellow passenger to Bombay.

"On our return to the ship a couple of hours later, I found Mrs. Trinder sitting in her cabin among her purchases, wearing a very frightened expression; she was a timid little thing, and about as fit to knock about the world alone as an unfledged canary, having evidently been kept in a bandbox all her life.

"They've put a madman next door," she began in a low voice. "He's dreadfully violent. Listen."

A string of Hindustani invectives, mingled with blows falling on some dull substance, and exclamations of "Sahib! Sahib!" reached our ears through the open grating that headed the partition walls of the two cabins, and I recognized the accents of the Worst-tempered Man.

"It's only temper," I said, reassuringly; "you will get used to that sort of thing. He's beating his servant, and you may be sure the 'boy' is well paid, or he wouldn't stand it. If the man swears too loudly, I'll speak to the captain."

"Beating his servant! How dreadful. Let us go up on deck."

Outside we came upon the white-robed "boy" rubbing his shoulders, with a smile of satisfaction upon his face.

"Sticks?" I inquired, sympathetically.

The "boy" grinned.

"Sahib make plenty bobbery," he replied.

That night, leaning over the prow of the vessel, watching the glimmering, fantastic lights in the phosphorescent waters, Mrs. Trinder waxed confidential, and I learned the reason of her journey.

She was unused to traveling, having never been fifty miles away from home before. Ten years ago she had loved and been beloved; but the loved one was ineligible, and her parents, fully alive to the advantage of wool, had persuaded her to marry old Trinder; but now that she was on her way to India to seek out her early love. They had always been faithful, though they had not corresponded (that would have been wrong) but she had frequent news of him from a mutual friend. That he still cared for her seemed certain, for he had never married, although he had attained a good position.

There was something touching in her simplicity, and I felt a greater interest than hitherto in the little woman, and a degree of respect for her child-like fidelity.

"You have written to say you are coming?" I inquired.

"Oh, no! I could not do that; it would seem like asking him to marry me. But I know he is in Bombay; I shall see him, and then—" She broke off with a happy smile; then, after a pause, continued: "You must have thought me stupid and unsociable; but every moment of the day I am thinking of our meeting and looking forward to it. If the days would only pass quicker. They are so terribly long."

Later in the evening I reported our conversation to the dragoon, and he took it distinctly bad, for the little woman exercised a strange fascination over him.

The Worst-tempered Man was a source of much annoyance to the passengers generally, and especially to my cabin passenger, who fled from his presence. His language, too, was not always confined to Hindustani, and although one could not help admiring the breadth of his vocabulary, I felt it my bounden duty to report him to the captain, who moved him to the port side of the ship, which caused further deterioration in his temper.

One morning we were awakened with the glad tidings that Bombay was in sight. It took Mrs. Trinder little time to dress and collect her impedimenta; before I was up she was on the deck, where I joined her later. The passengers' luggage was being drawn up from the hold, and near the saloon companion way sat the Worst-tempered Man's servant upon two portmantaux, bruised but cheerful, counting rupees into a small canvas bag. There were a goodly number, the price of many beatings.

"So we are really there at last," began Mrs. Trinder. Then she suddenly stopped and stared at something in front of her. Following the direction of her eyes, I encountered a portmanteau, and read the inscription in white letters, "Fenthan B. Davenant." Then I understood.

At that instant the Worst-tempered Man appeared. He looked at Mrs. Trinder, and for the first time their eyes met; a dawn of recognition broke over him.

"Is it possible?" he began.

Mrs. Trinder bowed.

"You have a time-table," I interrupted, quickly; "kindly tell me what time the evening train starts for Poonah."

Before he had answered my question Mrs. Trinder was half way down the companion, and when I went into the cabin a few minutes later she was sitting forlorn on her cabin box, the picture of disappointed hopes.

The blow had been a hard one.

"Everything seems to have come to an end," she said mournfully. "I dont know what to do or where to go."

"But I do. You will come with me to Poonah, and stay there until you have decided on your future."

Then I returned to the deck, where I found the dragoon standing by his guncase, his face gloomy and clouded.

"My leave isn't up for a week yet," he remarked; "so I'm going up country for a big shoot."

"You won't do anything of the sort, Mrs. Trinder is coming to stay with me."

"And her friend too?"

I pointed to the deckhouse, where stood the Worst-tempered Man, peg-glass in hand and profanity on his lips.

"That is he," I said.

"Mashallah!" he exclaimed.

BUSY DAY FOR THE QUEEN

Both Houses of Parliament Visit Her in Buckingham Palace.

FIRST TIME IN FIFTY YEARS

CELEBRATING THE 60TH ANNIVERSARY

LONDON, June 23.—This day was one of the most fatiguing of the week for the queen, the offical program demanding the reception of several distinguished bodies of unofficial persons, the inspection of the body guard and yeoman of the guard, a garden party and reception and addresses at Slough, Eton, Windsor. The chief event of the day, and one of the most interesting of the entire week was the presentation to the queen of the congratulatory addresses by both houses of parliament, which occurred in Buckingham palace this morning. Nearly half a century has passed since the house of commons visited the sovereign in a body, the last occasion being the presentation of an address acknowledging the reception of the queen's message announcing the declaration of war against Russia, and not since the early forties, when addresses were made congratulating the queen over the failure of.

ATTEMITS TO ASSASSINATE

her as she received the two houses together. There were brief formalities at Westminster to-day, the two houses meeting and after the formal announcement being made by Lord Salisbury in the house of lords and Mr. Balfour in the house of commons that the queen would be pleased to received both houses, their members started the procession to the palace. They assembled in the chamber adjoining the throne room. After a brief delay the doors were thrown open with the announcement that the queen was prepared to give them audience. Thereupon the lord chancellor and the speaker of the house of commons advanced side by side to the throne. Each was followed by the members of the house. Lord Salisbury knelt at the foot of the throne and read the address on his knees and then handed it to the queen. After this parliamentary ceremony the queen received in the same manner the mayors and provosts of the provinces, chairmen of county councils, who were afterwards entertained at luncheon in the palace.

RETURNS TO WINDSOR.

This afternoon the queen returned to Windsor Castle. Her progress was a triumphal procession. On the route the royal party stopped at Slough, Eton College and Windsor, where they were received by the local authorities with impressive formalities and were most enthusiastically welcome by the populace.

Addresses were made at stopping places. The final episode of progress was at the Castle Gates where addresses from Windsor bodies were received. As the queen's carriage arrived at the enterance of her home the national anthem was chanted in welcome by three hundred voices. The day's festivities were brought to an end by the illumination of the palaces.

There were many expressions of satisfaction that the carriage of the United States special envoy, Mr. Reid had been so warmly received in the jubilee procession yesterday. This was considered to be largely due to President McKinley's cordial letter congratulating her majesty upon the sixtieth anniversary of her accession to the throne. Every intention to honor the United States special envoy has been displayed. For this reason Mr. Reid took the Princess Victoria of Wales in to dinner Monday evening, sitting at the table of and opposite the Duke of Saxe-Coburg and Gotha. In addition Queen Victoria received Mrs. Reid most cordially and at the reception in the ball room she gave the wife of the United States special envoy her hand to kiss.

Flames Were Stubborn.

NEW YORK, June 23.—Fire that caused a loss of $250,000 and called out most of the firemen of the city broke out this afternoon in a large seven story building at the northeast corner of Greenwich and Laight streets. The flames taxed the firemen to their utmost and the interior of the building was destroyed.

The first floor and basement were occupied by the wholesale wine and liquor firm of B. Dreyfus & Co., and from the second floor to the roof B. E. Dietz & Co. carried on the manufacture of metal lamps, lanterns, oil and gas stoves.

How the fire started is not known. It broke out on the third floor in a small storage room. The first intimation was at 1.35 p. m., when the automatic fire signal sounded. Then smoke was seen coming out of the storage room and the alarm was given to the workmen and women in the building.

The young women became panic stricken. A number of girls were at the windows of the third and fourth floors at this time, screaming and threatening to jump, but the firemen succeeded in getting all of the women out. The fire spread with alarming rapidity and soon the building was destroyed. It was said that the fire had its origin in an overheated gas stove, but the report could no be confirmed.

Train Held Up in Tennessee.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., June 23.—Only partial information is yet obtainable of a hold-up on the Louisville and Nashville railroad, between Clarksville and Nashville, about 9 o'clock last night, near St. Bethlehem. One man, armed with two pistols, sacked the express and obtained, according to reports in Clarksville, from $2,000 to $4,000.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., June 23.—The express car was in charge of Messenger L. C. Brennan. The train left Memphis at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The robbery occurred four miles east of Clarksville at 9:35 p. m. It is supposed the robber boarded the train at Clarksville. When a few minutes out he entered the car and ordered the messenger to open the safe, which was done.

After securing some money the robber pulled the bell cord. When the train slackened its speed he jumped off and made his escape. About midnight bloodhounds were placed on the bandit's trail and it is thought he will be captured before morning. The passengers were not disturbed and knew nothing of the robbery until it was reported by the messenger.

Dauntless' Cargo of Arms.

Key West, Fla., June 23.—Two hundred and fifty thousand rounds of cartridges, besides other ammunition and arms were found on the Dauntless, consigned to a person in Key West. The names of all the persons aboard were on the regular passenger list from Key West to Jacksonville. The same people are now abroad who were aboard when the tug was detained here in the earlier part of the month. No charge has yet been made against the Dauntless. The boat was, without doubt, on her way to Cuba when the accident happened to her boiler.

A sealed carload of arms and supplies were brought to Miami, and through some stratagem the revenue officers, who were watching the car as suspicious, were enticed away, and then the contents of the car were transferred to a schooner, which carried them to the tug. The steamer Biscayne several days ago brought down some suspicious-looking cases which were transferred to the schooner Helen Adams and conveyed by her to the tug.

The condition of the boiler of the Dauntless is such that it will be a month before she will be prepared for service.

The Secretary of the Treasury yesterday received information of the capture of the suspected filibuster Dauntless yesterday off Indian Key, Fla., with men, arms, and ammunition on board. No further particulars were given.

Will Turn Up all Right.

PORTSMOUTH, Eng., June 23.—There is great anxiety here for the safety of the training ship, Sea Lark, which was to have been here to take part in the naval display in honor of the queen's jubilee. The crew consisted of forty-one officers and eighty boys. The Sea Lark left Queen's Ferry on the 12th for Portsmouth. On the 18th she reported herself off Grimsby as somewhat disabled and as having been delayed by headwinds. Since then nothing has been heard from her.

Lieutenant Tizard, her commander, is among the recipients of jubilee promotion, having been raised to the rank of commander. The boys of her crew were recruited from the training ship Caledonia, to which the Sea Lark served as a tender.

Charged with Robbing a Church.

MELROSE, Mass., June 23.—Two warrants have been issued against Charles S. Newhall, of Melrose Highlands, alleging embezzlement from the Agricultural Insurance company, of Boston, of which he was bookkeeper, and from the Melrose Congregational church. Newhall, was treasurer of the church and also of the Melrose Co-operative bank. Newhall, who is about 31 years of age, left Boston a week ago and went to Framingham. He was brought back, but was released on promising to make restitution for any shortage. He has not been seen since.

Willing to go With the Officer.

NEW YORK, June 23.—C. N. Fagenbush, said to be a real estate broker of Denver, is in custody here accused of forgeries by which, it is alleged, he obtained $8,000 from people in Denver. Fagenbush says that the transactions in question were legitimate, and he professes a willingness to return to Colorado without waiting for an extradition warrant.

JUBILEE CONVENTION.

Held by the United Christian Endeavor Societies of Wallace Run and Bellefonte

Tuesday, 22d inst., was an important day in the history of the Christian Endeavor Societies of Bellefonte and Wallace Run. A jubilee convention was held, which was favored with the presence of the Presiding Elder, Rev. J. H. Pershing, and Rev. J. L. Leichtleter, of Tyrone, and was held in the church at Wallace Run, of which Rev. J. T. Kelly is pastor.

About fifty were present from Bellefonte and the societies at Pleasant View and Marsh Creek were well represented.

The program was carried out, those not present being represented by substitutes. The entire exercises were successful and intensely interesting. Special mention should be made of the splendid entertainment by the people of Wallace Run. They were generous and kind to a fault.

The following resolutions were adopted:

WHEREAS, The Christian Endeavor Societies of Bellefonte and Wallace Run charges, met in public convention in the church at Wallace Run, June 22d, 1897, we desire, first, to express our gratitude to God for giving us such a pleasant day, such a large gathering and, as we hope, a profitable convention.

Resolved, First, that we especially appreciate the presence of the Presiding Elder, Rev. J. H. Pershing, whose happy method of expressing himself and genius as a presiding officer are not excelled; also, that of Rev. J. L. Leichtleter, the Vice President of the Conference Branch of the Young People's Societies, who contributed so much to the convention by his remarks.

Resolved, That we hope that all the delegates who attended in such large numbers have been spiritually benefitted.

Resolved, That we pledge our most earnest efforts, in both words and works, against the prevailing evil of intemperance, which is the enemy of the church and of all Christian virtues.

Resolved, That in consideration of the facts that the hospitality of the people of Wallace Run is apparently so boundless, and their taste in floral decoration so exquisite, we believe that it will be a suitable place for the assembling of the next District convention. We hereby express our appreciation of their entertainment of the public convention and hope they will be rewarded.

Resolved, That the Conference Journal be requested to publish as much as they can of the proceedings of this convention, and that a copy of the proceedings be furnished them by the secretary.

C. C. MILLER,
N. S. BAILEY,
MRS. C. L. ROTE, } Com.

The following resolution was offered by Mr. E. Hancock, of Wallace Run, and adopted:

Resolved, That this convention tender their heartfelt thanks to the Bellefonte society for the zeal manifested in this work by not only turning out in a body, but as well aiding by their good talks and assistance rendered by their choir.

BELLEFONTE'S GLASS WORKS.

A False Report in Thursday Morning's Pittsburg Times.

A very erroneous article appeared in Thursday's Pittsburg Times, which does Bellefonte's Co-operative Glass works a great injustice. It is as follows:

"Word was received in Pittsburg yesterday among the window glass people that the Co operative Window Glass factory at Bellefonte had proved a failure and would soon pass into the hands of a receiver. The plant is a small one and was organized there last fall by a number of the local business men of Bellefonte, who contributed the sum of $2,000 toward its establishment there. It had but four pots and was not considered to be well equipped in any respect. It began its first run last September, and has been employing from 50 to 60 workmen."

This report is false and unjust in every particular and should be corrected at once. This is a co operative company, as stated above, and was started by the workmen themselves, assisted by the business men of our town, last October. The success which has rewarded the enterprise of these men has been beyond all expectations, and considering the hard times is indeed wonderful. It is one of the best equipped glass works of its size in the state and the demand for their glass has been so great that it was utterly impossible to fill all their orders.

Everything is running in good order and they have made all arrangements to double their capacity next fire. They will run eight pots and employ twice as many men as at present. It is in order for the Pittsburg Times to correct this false report at once.

Heat on Top

Edison says that before the world's supply of coal is exhausted we shall surely not be dependent upon it for fuel; in fact, fuel of any kind will be superfluous. It is said that he believes that the fires of the interior of the earth will be utilized in the future for the carrying on of every industry requiring steam power. Volcanoes, geysers, natural fountains of boiling water in Iceland as well as earthquake shocks, are all proof that fierce subterranean fires are raging miles beneath our feet. Edison's belief is that immence pipes may be forced through the earth's crust which would allow a great volume of steam compressed below us to force its way to the surface. This would furnish power to huge electromotors, which would, in turn, generate electricity to be used in storage batteries. All vehicles for travel could be supplied with these, and little recharging stations, with feed wires, could be erected in the streets. The power would be so cheap that it would do away with the use of horses.

Furthermore, the farmer could have rows of pipes beneath the ground and cause it to produce rare exotic plants and finer fruits than by the hothouse system. Machines would be worked without coal and the atmophere, consequently, be purified from its gas and smoke. The homes of the poor would be automatically heated and lighted, with little expense.

CLOSING UP THE JUBILEE

The Splendid Naval Review on the Program.

WARSHIPS OF ALL NATIONS

Included in the Fleet Assembled Off Portsmouth for the Ceremony—The Queen Visits a Gathering of 6,000 School Children.

DINNERS AND DANCES IN LONDON

LONDON, June 25.—The jubilee ceremonies will close to-morrow with the great naval review off Portsmouth, in which the American cruiser Brooklyn will take part. This evening a banquet to the officers of the town hall was presided over by Mr. Goschen, first lord of the admiralty. The fleet in the roads is the largest ever assembled, and comprises ships from all the civilized nations.

Lord Mayor Sir George Faudel-Phillips gave a luncheon this afternoon to the British and foreign princes and princesses, the special envoys and the diplomatic corps.

The Queen drove to Windsor park to-day and visited 6,000 school children who were celebrating the jubilee. Later the Queen received delegations from fire brigades belonging to all parts of the kingdom. The Queen seemed in excellent health and spirits and smilingly conversed with those around her.

While the Queen and the Empress Frederick were dining this evening 1,000 Eton boys, with bands of music, entered the quadrangle of the castle, and gave an exhibition of torchlight evolutions and fireworks. The spectacle was watched by the Queen and other members of the royal household from the castle windows.

Sir Wilfrid Laurie, the Canadian premier, reviewed the Canadian troops to-day at Chelsea. At the close of the evolutions he said: "In behalf of the government and people of Canada, I congratulate you upon your splendid appearance and upon the good reports I have heard of you from all sides. As Canadians, we all hope that war will never break out, but I express the feelings of all present in saying that if the empire should ever go to war, the Canadian troops will be quite as ready to go to the battlefield and give a good account of themselves as they have been to appear on parade this morning."

This evening the Marquis of Lansdowne, Secretary of State for War, gave a banquet at the sculpture gallery of Lansdowne house, at which were present the Prince and Princess of Wales, Ambassador Hay and Mrs. Hay, almost all the special envoys and foreign princes now in London, the Duke and Duchess of Devonshire, the Duke and Duchess of Marlborough, the Marquis and Marchioness of Londonderry, the Marquis and Marchioness of Salisbury, the Earl of Rosebery, Lord and Lady Wolsley and other persons of high rank.

Later in the evening most of the guests, including the Prince and Princess of Wales, attended a brilliant ball given in an immense marquee by the Duke of Westminster. The marquee was erected in front of Grosvenor house, lined with red and white carpets and hung with Gobelin tapestries. The supper was served a la Russe, at small round tables. The floral decorations and illuminations were beautiful.

Dislodged by Spaniards.

HAVANA, June 25.—Col. Aguileras, with a column of troops and acting in conjunction with the guerrilla force and garrison of Madruga, has been engaged with an insurgent force, under the leadership of Arangueen, which was entrenched in the Sierra de Grille, near Madruga, in this province. The Spanish troops, the official report says, successively disloged the insurgents from all the positions occupied by the latter, until the enemy reached Abro del Cafe, where the insurgents made a determined stand. Eventually the insurgents were also dislodged from that place and the Spanish troops destroyed the enemy's camp.

The fighting, the official report adds, lasted from 3 o'clock in the afternoon until 7 o'clock at night. The insurgents in retreating left the men killed on the field, and the government force lost one lieutenant and fifteen soldiers killed, and had one major, one captain, and 133 soldiers wounded.

Dispatches from Cienfuegos, Santa Clara, say that active operations of the Spanish troops have compelled many insurgents, with their families, to seek refuge within the Spanish lines.

An official announcement is made from Pinar del Rio to the effect that twenty-five insurgents, with their families, have surrendered to the Spanish authorities in that part of the island.

Reducing the Population.

FAYETTEVILLE, W. Va., June 25—Clark Lewis was hanged here to day at 12:40 o'clock p. m., in public, before a large and orderly crowd. The condemned man sang on the scaffold. Lewis was hanged for the murder of Charles Gibson, whose death appeared to be desired by Mrs. Gibson, to enable her to continue uninterrupted her carousals with Lewis and one or two others who were jointly convicted with Lewis.

ATLANTA, Ga., June 25.—Terrell Hudson, a negro, died on the gallows at Decatur to-day. The fall broke his neck. Hudson killed Seaborn Malcolm, another negro, in a quarrel over a dog.

HOUSTON, Tex., June 25.—Jim Williamson, who was convicted of complicity in the murder of the Crocker family in 1895, was hanged at Wharton to-day. The murder was the result of a feud over some land, in which Mrs. Crocker first killed a member of the Williamson faction named Day. Crocker and son, a small boy, was then murdered by a mob led by Williamson, who afterwards hunted down Mrs. Crocker and shot and beat her to death.

Saves Her Little Ones

New York, June 25.—Mrs. Mary Cusick, the wife of a motorman on the Nostrand avenue line, Brooklyn, risked her life yesterday to save her two youngest children. Ella, aged 4, and Rose, 1 year old, from being crushed by a trolley car.

Mrs. Cusick left her home with the children early in the afternoon to go to Bergen Beach. When she reached Nostrand avenue and Stockton street, car 403 of the Nostrand avenue line, going to the Broadway ferries and in charge of Motorman John Seymour, was approaching. Mrs. Cusick had the youngest child in her arms, and held the other child with her right hand. When the car stopped Mrs. Cusick hesitated about crossing the street, but just as the car started ahead she set out to cross the tracks.

The fender struck her, and she fell. As she was being pushed along by the fender she threw the infant into it. Then she seized the fender with one hand, and with the other held the other child out of harm's way. She was dragged three or four yards before the car was stopped.

Mrs. Cusick fainted when she was helped to her feet. Surgeon Butler, of the Memorial hospital found that the only injury she had received was a cut on the forehead. The children were not hurt. A policeman arrested the motorman, but Mrs. Cusick declined to make a charge against him, and he was discharged.

Death Sentences Commuted.

Harrisburg, June 24.—The Board of Pardons to-night commuted the sentence of Alphonso Cutair, of Philadelphia, to life imprisonment. The application of Frank Jongrass, the Lawrence county murderer sentenced to be executed August 27, was refused. Pardons were granted Harry R, Mason, Allegheny county, voluntary manslaughter, and Harry Wool, also Allegheny county, receiving stolen goods. The death sentence of Joseph Aiello, the Jefferson county murderer, was commuted to life imprisonment. The application of Louis Belaro, Allegheny, felonious assault, and battery, was refused.

MR. NATHANIEL BIERLY.

He Is a Good Musician and a Skilled Director.

Mr. Nathaniel Bierly, is a resident of Boggs township; he was born in Clinton county in 1843, and moved with his parents to Centre county when 4 years of age. Being a natural musician, he took up music when a mere child, the metal Boehm flute being his favorite instrument, with an ambition to play what the old masters could and to make a Virtuoso of himself.

At 18 years of age Mr. Bierly enlisted in the 18th regiment, Pennsylvania volunteers, and was transferred to the First Division band; served his enlistment, and was honorably discharged at the conclusion of the war. Coming home he became connected with the Bellefonte orchestra, an organization in which he took great pride, it being composed of the most prominent musicians in this part of the state. Afterwards he was elected director of the Milesburg band, which was composed at that time of the most gifted musicians in Central Pennsylvania. This band he directed at the Hecla park tournament, and it was awarded first prize. At the consolidation of the Milesburg and Coleville bands, the latter being a crack musical organization, Mr. Beerly was elected director of the same, and played at the opening of Pine Grove park on Tuesday, June 22.

The subject of this sketch deserves more than passing notice, as he shows more than ordinary skill in managing the flute. As a musician he is not only skilled in execution, but is a severe critic and stern director.—Grit.

Bucknell's Big Commencement.

LEWISBURG, June 23.—The forty-seventh annual commencement of Bucknell University closed to-day. It was one of the biggest and best in years. Thirty six were graduated from the college, five in the post graduate department, twenty from the Ladies' Institute, eleven from the Academy, eleven from the school of music.

The following honorary degrees were bestowed. Doctor of Divinity upon Rev. J. W. Weddell, of Philadelphia; Rev. William V. Wilson, of New Monmouth, N. J. and Rev. J. S. Wrightnour, of Oil City. Master of Arts upon Col. Geo. Nox McClain, of Philadelphia, and Mrs. Mary E. R. Cobb, of Philadelphia. Doctor of Science upon T. J. Smith, M. D., of Bridgeton, N. J.

The music furnished by the Ringgold band of Reading, was of a superior grade and attracted immense crowds, especially at the twilight concerts.

Among the prominent speakers were Judge W. N. Ashman, Rev. G. W Felwell, Philadelphia; B. L. Whitman, D. D., president of Columbian University; Myra Reynolds, Ph. D., of the University of Chicago; F. S. Parry, D. D., New York; George Whitman, D. D., of Buffalo, N. Y., and Albert Foster, D. D., of Newark, N. J.

The outlook for a big attendance next year is very encouraging.

Broker Brown a Bigamist.

NEW YORK, June 24.—Francis W. Brown formerly a stock broker of Washington, D. C., and a man of much wealth, was to-day decided guilty of bigamy in the special term of the Supreme Court, Miss Madge Dean, the actress, being the complainant. Miss Dean is the young woman who played the part of Willie Grow in Hoyt's "A Trip to Chinatown," and has appeared in other prominent farce comedies. She alleged that she had been married to Brown in Wilmington, Del., Brown at the time representing himself as an unmarried man. Brown's counsel asserted that at the time he was in no condition for a legal marriage on account of intoxication and confused state of mind. On the stand Brown admitted that he was a bigamist, but pleaded that his condition at the time was some excuse.

Justice Nash after hearing all the testimony said that he would annul the marriage contract between Miss Dean and Brown, but that he would reserve his decision on the plea of alimony.

Smothered in a Trunk.

HENDERSON, Ky., June 25.—When an old trunk was opened in the home of Joseph Melton, near Bordley, in Union county, the father found his two little girls lying in it, smothered to death—Laura, 7 years old, and Jennie, 5.

While their parents were absent the children had been playing "hide and seek" with three other children. While searching for a good hiding place the two evidently thought of an old trunk in the cellar, crawled into it and closed the lid. A spring lock made it an air-tight tomb.

The Golden Star Gold Mining Co.,

OF MONTANA.

Owning 3 great and rich gold mines offers a small portion of its shares to the investing public at a very low price. The capitalization is very small. Several thousands of dollars have already been expended and over 600 feet of underground work is done on the property, which is rich in gold, copper and some silver. These shares now obtainable at a very low price are the best investment on the financial market to-day and ought to pay at least 10c per share per month dividends in the near future. Scrofula

Face Broke Out With Sores—Weak and Sickly Until Hood's Sarsaparilla Made Him Well.

"My little son was afflicted with scrofula sores and he was weak and sickly. Our physician recommended Hood's Sarsaparilla and I bought a bottle. Before he had taken all of this bottle his face began to break out with sores and one side of his face was nearly all one solid sore. I continued giving him Hood's Sarsaparilla until he had taken two bottles. The sores were then healed and he has been well and hearty ever since." Z. W. SMITH, Big Shanty, Pennsylvania.

"Everything I ate seemed to produce gas in my stomach. I was growing worse and friends advised me to take Hood's Sarsaparilla. When I had taken four bottles I was able to eat and feel no distress. I could attend to my household duties without the fatigue I formerly felt." ADA MCVICKAR, White Hall, Pa.

Anthony Hope's New Zenda Novel.

The manuscript of Anthony Hope's new novel, the sequal to "The Prisoner of Zenda," which is to begin publication in McCLURE'S MAGAZINE in September, is now in the hands of Mr. C. D. Gibson, who is to make a series of full-page illustrations to be published with the several installments in McCLURE'S. The title of the novel is "A Constable of Zenda." Those who have been permitted to look into it say that, while a sequal to "The Prisoner of Zenda" and introducing the same people who made that so irresistible, it is entirely complete and independent, and will be found by any reader a rare good story in itself. It simply runs over with romantic adventure.

The magazine women need is "TABLE TALK," the acknowledged American authority upon culinary and household topics. The July issue contains a description of "Some Pretty Luncheons," gives "Seasonable Canning and Preserving," as well as other recipes and menus by leading authorities. It also contains an article on "Summer Vegetables," one on "Chutneys and Foreign Sauces," "A Word Over the Tea Cups," as well as very full and interesting "New Bill of Fare," and "Housekeepers Inquiry" departments. Send for a sample copy of this unique housekeepers guide, which is offered free, to any one of our readers who send their name and address to Table Talk Publishing Company, Philadelphia, Pa.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and perscribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounce it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

Hall's Family Pills are the best.

THE leading article in the July HARPER'S is "Sheridan's Ride," by General George A. Forsyth, U. S. A., who was one of Sheridan's two aides, and is the only survivor. Among other important bits of historical fact, General Forsyth relates that though he was constantly with his chief, he failed to hear that terrible oath which in prose and verse has always been attributed to him. Nevertheless it is safe to predict that hero-worshipping humanity will cherish its belief in the "toch of nature," in spite of the hard facts of hisrtoy.

IN the great battle of life we must not depend solely on muscle. It is the "brain sweaters" that come out ahead every time. On the farm, in the shop, in the mine,—every where—they are bound to win. A judicious blending of muscle and mind will surmount the greatest obstacles.

1. Because it is absolutely pure.
2. Because it is not made by the so-called Dutch Process in which chemicals are used.
3. Because beans of the finest quality are used.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

(From Our Regular Correspondent.)

WASHINGTON, June 28, 1897.

That this will be the last week of the tariff debate in the Senate is the general opinion of Senators. Some think that the bill will be passed as early as Wednesday and some that the final vote will be taken Saturday. At any rate, unless there is unexpected delay, the bill will be passed in time to add to the jollification of the Fourth of July celebration all over the country. This early disposal of the bill will be far from satisfactory to some of the Democratic Senators, but fear of the wrath of their constituents has prevented them from resorting to anything like filibustering tactics to delay it further.

It is impossible, at this time, to say how long the tariff bill will remain in conference, but Chairman Dingley, who is thoroughly posted on the sentiment of both Senators and Representatives, and who will be at the head of the House conferees, expresses the opinion that an agreement will be speedily reached on the bill.

Ex-Senator Corbett's claim to the vacant Oregon seat in the Senate will not be acted upon until the regular session, but the Committee on Privileges and Elections has had printed for the convenience of Senators, the elaborate report prepared by Senator Hoar in favor of seating Mr. Corbett on the certificate of the Governor of Oregon. Mr. Corbett is much disappointed, as he expected the case to be settled at the present session, and hoped to get the seat.

Mr. I. F. Mack, the well known Ohio editor, who is now visiting Washington, has been talking interestingly of a subject on which he is thoroughly posted—Ohio politics. He said: "The talk about the Republican party being torn with internecine strife is arrant nonsense. We are thoroughly united and harmonious and will win in Ohio this year by a heavy majority. There is no sort of doubt about it, and away down in their hearts I do not believe the Democrats think they have any show of success. There is no Democratic party in our state, anyway, for those who used to be Democrats have gone over to the Populists."

Commissioner Butterworth hasn't lost any time in beginning the needed work of raising the standard of practice before the United States Patent office. Eight attornies have recently been disbarred from practice before that office for not conducting their business under honorable methods, and the Washington firm of John Wedderburn & Co. has been ordered to show cause why it should not be disbarred for having made "fraudulent, deceptive and improper searches, with intent to defraud, and the result of defrauding clients, to their injury; and wrong doing, to the scandal and reproach of the Patent office, and contrary to equity and good morals," and for other causes.

Certain gentlemen, notably Mr. Claus Spreckels, the California sugar king, have been expressing more confidence in the rejection of the treaty for the annexation of Hawaii, to which they are violently opposed, than there is anything in sight to justify. But there is a reason for their confidence, as will be fully apparent before Congress meets next winter. It lies in the manipulation of a big corruption fund to create a public sentiment against the treaty with the hope that enough Senators can be influenced to prevent the necessary two-thirds vote being obtained for ratification of the treaty And all of this corruption fund will not come from American sugar men. A considerable portion of it will come from the secret fund of European governments. There are at least two European nations which are more interested in the failure of the treaty than Japan is. But being smarter than the Japs, they have not protested and will not protest against the treaty, but will try to accomplish its defeat by the use of money, just as they have before tried, and sometimes succeeded in influencing the course of the United States. It is really a great pitty that this scheme could not be headed off by the ratification of the treaty by the Senate at this session, but it is known that the opponents of the treaty would not allow a vote to be taken on the treaty at this session, even if it were possible to keep a quorum of the Senate in Washington for any considerable time after the tariff bill has been passed.

The difference between being a tariff expert and posing as one was made apparent when Senator Jones, of Ark., tied himself all up in a jungle of figures supplied to him by the opponents of a duty on the cheap silks of China and Japan. Before he got through everybody knew that he knew absolutely nothing of what he was trying to talk about.

Cereal Coffee Drinkers BEWARE.

If you have been deceived and tried one of the cheap brand substitutes now on the market, claiming to be the original and to have great food value, and you got a pound of poorly roasted bran for your 25c and a poor, weak, sickish drink (what can you expect from bran), don't be discouraged but try GRAIN-O. it is made from solid grain, nicely browned and 2 pounds for 25c. Grain-O takes the place of coffee at ¼ the price. Get a package of your grocer to-day.

HARPER'S BAZAR of July 3d will contain the first of an interesting series on "Colonial Homes and Life," by Helen Evertson Smith, entitled "A Pioneer Home in Connecticut;" an article on "Patriotism and Manners," by Viola Roseboro'; and "The Trials of a City-Bred Young Married Couple," by Anna Wentworth Sears.

Gov. Hastings has signed the bill imposing a tax of 3 cents per day on all employed unnaturalized. Foreigners which is to be deducted from their wages. Death of Mrs. Margaret L. Nolan.

Mrs. Margaret L. Nolan, an aged widow lady, died at her home on West Lamb street, Tuesday night, at a quarter of twelve. She had been a patient sufferer for the past two years and a half, from a complication of diseases and her end came very peacefully.

Deceased was born in Perry county, Pa., October 15th 1823 and was therefore 73 years, 8 months and 14 days old. She had two strokes of paralysis about six years ago but rallied again. On last Tuesday a week ago she was taken with the third stroke and gradually grew weaker until death claimed her.

Mrs. Nolan was a devoted christian lady and mother, and will be greatly missed, especially, by her daughter, Alice, who was her patient nurse during her long illness. She was a conscientious member of the Catholic church. Her husband preceded her to the grave about seven years ago.

Three children, two boys and one girl, survive to mourn the loss of a devoted and loving mother. They are Charles, of Newark, N. J., Christ, of Butler, Pa. and Miss Alice R. of this place, Mr. John Ford, of Slippery Rock, Pa.

The funeral will take place Friday morning. The friends will meet at the house at 9 o'clock and the services will be held in St. Johns Catholic church, Bishop street, at 10 o'clock.

Miss Nolan wishes, through the REPUBLICAN, to thank her many friends who were so kind during her hours of trial.

Mrs. Paul Refused.

The Gazette and Bulletin says: The poor authorities of Bald Eagle township, Clinton county, have been trying to locate the residence of Mrs. James I. Paul, who is ill in their district. Mrs. Paul was formerly of Lamar township, that county, where she lived with her husband. Trouble came between them and they separated, and about 1892 Mr. Paul came to this city. In February of last year he secured a divorce from his wife. The woman could not secure a residence herself and her residence must be the same as that of her former husband. The authorities could find that the husband had paid but 35 cents tax here, but it was discovered that he had served two years as inspector of elections in the Tenth ward. This clinched the residence, and Overseer Page made a visit to the home of the woman's parents five miles from Mill Hall. She was offered a home in the almshouse but flatly refused the same.

A Young Wife's Suicide.

NEW CASTLE, Pa., June 28.—Mrs. John McKay, aged about 26 years, apparently happy and having a large circle of friends took her own life here last night. She hanged herself with a clothes line, fastened by nails to the joint of a door. The rope had given way with her weight, but not until its deadly work was done. The woman was cold and stiff when her husband found her. McKay can give no explanation of his wife's suicide and knows of nothing that induced her to commit the deed. The affair so far is a complete mystery.

Let bankers, merchants, manufactures and all other folks remember, that good times cannot return until farmers get honest prices for their products. There is some world-wide tomfoolery with the world's currency that keeps prices down, and this must come to an end if the people are to prosper.

A Remarkable Escape.

ATLANTA, Ga., June 28.—A derrick on the roof of a new building fell at 1 o'clock this afternoon, knocking three workmen from scaffolding on the ninth story. Palmetto Ayres and Charles Cargill, colored, were dashed to instant death on the ground, 125 feet below. William Brown, white, by the wildest freak of luc grasped one of the derrick ropes as he shot through the air. As the boom of the hoisting engine fell the ropes on the tackle were set in motion, one going up and the other down. It was Brown's good fortune to catch the rope being drawn upwards and he was hauled safely to the roof.

To another boom of the derrick projecting out on the other side of the building was attached a car in which four men were standing. This boom likewise fell, but was held up by the roof. The car was dashed over the side of the building swung there in safety. The men were shoved through a window, none of them being injuried.

Sullivan Working Like a Beaver.

NEW YORK, June 28.—John L. Sullivan is working like a beaver at Muldoon's retreat, near White Plains, so that he may make a good showing in his six round bout with Fitsimmons on July 5. Nobody expects him to get into the best trim on such short notice, but the indications are that he will be able to give the champion a good argument for six rounds. It is said that he has not drank alcoholic liquors since last October.

Self Protection.

A sudden shower is only one of the many vicissitudes to which a woman is exposed. Many women are careless; but sometimes it is impossible for even the most wise to foresee very common dangers. The day is fair, the air balmy, not a cloud in the sky, and without any protection against rain, the woman ventures away from home. The gathering storm gives no warning of its approach. Almost instantly she finds herself dranched. Thousands of times this oft-repeated occurrence is the beginning of the end. A cold is caught which settles in some organ; it soon becomes catarrh; then becomes chronic. The catarrh gradually eats its way through to some vital organ.

A few doses of Pe ru-na at the beginning of this very common history would change the course of events entirely. It operates directly on the mucous membrances of the whole body. It absolutely prevents catarrh from fastening itself upon any part of the organism Women have found it to be the surest and most effective remedy in the ills peculiar to their sex. So-called female diseases are almost invariably pelvic catarrrh. Local treatment is worthless—a waste of valuable time. Pe ru-na is an internal remedy that cures catarrh wherever located. Some women prefer to correspond with Dr. Hartman while they are taking his remedy, Pe-ru-na, and thus thousands of women are constantly writing him. Each letter receives a prompt answer without charge.

The Pe-ru-na Drug Manufacturing Company, of Columbus, O., are sending free to any address a book written expressly for women by Dr. Hartman.

The Greatest Nation on Earth.

"The value of timber yearly cut in the United States is double that of the output of all our mines"; "One-third of the population of this country are church members"; "It costs $668.32 every minute during the year to run our Government"; "Uncle Sam's farms constitute one fifth of the National wealth"; "Nearly one-half of the $8,000,000,000 letters making up the world's annual mail, belong to the United States." These are but instances of the thousands of wonderful facts about every phase of the life and progress of our country, from an illustrated article on "The Greatest Nation on Earth," by William George Jordan, to appear in the July number of The Ladies Home Journal. The article pictures a novel way, America's vast area, her matchless resources, boundless wealth, her marvelous development, and shows how the United States leads the world.

This Cashier was Game.

DEADWOOD, S. D., June 28.—Four masked men this morning entered the Butte county bank, at Belle Fourche, and with drawn revolvers ordered the officials and customers to hold their hands up. The cashier slammed the door of the vault shut and was shot in the ear. The men got only $75, then escaped on horses. A posse followed and after a running fight captured one of the men. The others got away.

EDITOR OF THE REPUBLICAN:

Dear Sir—The Grand Rally under an tisipation for the past four weeks, by the officiary of St Pauls A. M. E. church, took place in the church on Sunday morning and evening, June 27inst, which was a grand financial success. The object of this rally was to raise sufficient money to pay off a long standing indebteness against the trustees of the above church, and, if possible to have a surplus sufficient to remodel the church which it doubtlessly needs but in the later we failed to succeed. During the day we raised from our congregation, by subscription, $56.61 and from one of the auxilaries to the church $26.00, making a grand total for the day $82.61. We feel very grateful to the generous public for the willingness with which it responded to the appeal of Rev. C. N. Woodson our pastor and if left to be goverend by our own feeling, we would gladly publish the names of the gentlemen contributed so liberaly to relieve us of our burden. The public will please accept our sincere thanks for $28.00, as well as our creditors who so generously deducted from their accounts the several amounts which reduced our indebtness very much less than it was previously. The entire amount collected was $112.61 for which the church and the undersigned feel very th i l ,

Two Armies—the Regular and Irregular.

To which would you prefer to belong? The regular, undoubtedly. The irregulars are, admittedly, the most numerous, but they are in a very undesirable state of no-discipline, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters will soon remedy this want in a disordered liver or bowels. Biliousness manifests itself in yellowness of the skin and eyeball, sour breath, furred tongue, morning nausea, discomfort in the vicinity of the liver, vertigo and sick headache. Hosts of people suffer thus. These signs of insubordination to the goverance of health, together with an irregular condition of the bowels, are soon regulated by the Bitters, which also overcomes Malaria, dyspepsia, rheumatism, neuralgia, nervousness and kidney trouble. As a means of checking premature decay, hastening convalescence and mitigating the infirmities of age, the great tonic is without a parallel.

LI HUNG CHANG'S secretary has recently written to The Century Co. expressing the pleasure the Viceroy is taking in General Horace Porter's articles "Campaigning with Grant," now appearing in The Century. Mr. Pethick, the secretary, says: "His Excellency has had read to him General Porter's articles on General Grant, and has been greatly interested in studying the character of his great friend during the greatest of his campaigns for the preservation of the Union. It is a rare privilege to read of such deeds related so eloquently by one who honorably participated in them."

Hawaii in The Commons.

London, June 24.—In the House of Commons to-day Mr. Beckett (Conservative) asked whether the government was aware that "Queen Liliuokalani has been desposed by a small body of Americans, who, without right or title, have assumed sovereignty over Hawaii, and now, to save themselves from the resentment of the people, have requested the American government to annex Hawaii, and whether Great Britain proposes to allow this most important coaling station to pass into the hands of the United States without protest?"

Mr. Curzon, for the Foreign Office, said her maesty's government did not feel called upon to express an opinion relative to the circumstances out of which the present situation in Hawaii had arisen.

A Johnstown Flood Case.

Williamsport, Pa., June 25.—Argument was made before Judge Metzgar today to set aside the discontinuance and reopen the suit of J. J. Strayer vs. the South Fork Fishing and Hunting club. The plaintiff had brought action for damages from the Johnstown disaster, and his attorney, W. H. Moor, of Pittsburg, settled for $500. After the death of Mr. Moore plaintiff made the motion just argued, claiming that his attorney settled without his authority. Decision has been reserved.

A BELLEFONTE MAN.

Makes a public statement on a subject of interest to our citizens.

Mr. B. Steel who is employed at Reynold's Mill may never occupy the presidential chair. He may never aspire to be Mayor of Bellefonte but he is none the less an honest employe, none the less active, and none the less intelegent. No one in the City would deny that he is not an authority on lumber and every one after reading his statement must come to the conclusion that his opinion of the old Quaker remedy is backed up by positive personal experience. Read his statement carefully. "I, like a great many other people, went to F. Potts Green's drug store and procured a box of Doan's Kidney Pills for myback. I had very little faith in their virtue for nowadays advertisers will do anything and say anything to get their mixtures on the market, However, in spite of the feeling, I tried them In fact had to try something. I was struck on the back eight or nine years ago while helping to build a house for cousin. Ever since the I have have had trouble with my back, not continually but at intervals, it always seemed to pass away of its own accord and return just as mysteriously. A cold sometimes caused a recurrence and this may have been at the bottom of the last attack. The trouble was centered in the right kidney and I could feel the shape of it, as I imagine I could from the soreness. I could press it with my thumb and it would cause increased pain. When my back was at its worst I had urinary trouble that lasted three or four weeks. Well, Doan's Kidney Pills helped me from the start. I must confess they relieved me in such a short time that it surprised me to find them act so quickly. You are at liberty to make these facts known."

Doan's Kidney Pills are sold by all dealers, price 50 cents a box, or six boxes for $2.50. Sent by mail on receipt of price, Foster-Milburn Co., sole agents for the U. S., Buffalo, N. Y.

Troubles Never Come Singly

A. J. Bloom, of Bloomsburg, near Curwensville, visited Philipsburg the other day with a horse and buggy. He put up his horse at Condo & Sharp's stable, and after it had been in a while Mr. Bloom discovered that his horse had hung itself, and rushing in with a knife to cut loose the halter, slipped, cutting a gash in his leg, and was taken to the hospital for treatment. The horse had broken its neck.

Woman Suffrage.

It is sometimes said "The woman suffrage movement seems to be dying of inanition." On this point let the facts speak for themselves.

Sixty years ago women could not vote anywhere. In 1838 Kentucky gave school suffrage to widows, and in 1845 the law was changed, making widows and spinsters having taxable property eligible to vote for school trustees, except in cities governed by charters. In 1861 Kansas gave school suffrage to all women.

In 1869 England gave municipal suffrage to single women and widows, and Wyoming gave full suffrage to all women.

School suffrage was granted in 1875 by Michigan and Minnesota, in 1876 by Colorado, in 1878 by New Hampshire and Oregon, in 1879 by Massachusetts, in 1880 by New York and Vermont.

In 1881 municipal suffrage was extended to the single women and widows of Scotland. Nebraska gave women school suffrage in 1883, and Wisconsin in 1885. In 1886 New Brunswick and Ontario gave municipal suffrage to single women and widows, and Washington gave school suffrage to all women. In 1887 municipal suffrage was extended to all women in Kansas, and school suffrage in North and South Dakota, Montana, Arizona and New Jersey. In 1891 school suffrage was granted in Illinois.

In 1892 municipal suffrage was extended to single women and widows in the Province of Quebec. In 1893 school suffrage was granted in Connecticut, and full suffrage in Colorado and New Zealand. In 1894 school suffrage was granted in Ohio, a limited municipal suffrage in Iowa and parish and district suffrage in England to women, both married and single. In 1895 full suffrage was granted in South Australia to women, both married and single. In 1896 full suffrage was granted to women in Utah and Idaho.

The question is now pending in South Dakota, Washington and in several of the British provinces.

Elder Wm. Tennison

Tells of the Great Benefits Derived From Dr. Miles' Heart Cure.

HEART DISEASE of long standing is not easily cured, but it IS CURABLE. Elder Wm. Tennison writes: "I was afflicted for thirty-five years with heart disease, in fact, troubled with it nearly all my life; I think it hereditary as my father was afflicted with it. I have suffered great distress, my heart palpitated to such an extent as to shake my whole body. So distressing was it I could only with greatest difficulty compose myself to sleep. About two years ago I began taking Dr. Miles' Heart Cure. The first bottle gave me no perceptible benefit, but after taking the third I began to feel much relief and I continued for some months. I have good reason to believe the cure is permanent.

Women's Need of the Ballot

EMILY P. COLLINS, HARTFORD, CONN.

What need of the ballot have women? Ask men why they need it. "For our protection," they will reply, "for the protection of person, property and family." If women be the weaker sex, then for those objects they need suffrage more than do men. "Not so," we are told, "for men, especially husbands, are the natural protectors of women and their rights." But there are more appeals by women to the law for protection against those "natural protectors" than for any other cause.

In our earlier history, after a man had acquired a certain amount of property and paid taxes, he was allowed the suffrage to better guard his possessions. Women now own and control property and pay taxes but have no vote to protect their property against inequitable taxation, or against other infringements of their property rights. In 1844 it was brought to the notice of the Connecticut Legislature, that colored men though not allowed to vote, were taxed, in violation of one of the basic principals of our nation. Our law-makers readily saw the wrong of this and promptly exempted the property of colored men from taxation until they were given the elective franchise. Men had no difficulty in perceiving the injustice of taxing colored men while denied the suffrage, but continue blind to the wrong of taxing women, black and white, while still withholding the ballot from them.

The Connecticut Legislature lately defeated a bill to relieve women from taxation while disfranchised; and subsequently rejected a bill giving women the right to vote at all town, city or borough elections. The only reason urged against the bill was that not one-third of the women wanted to vote. But, if it were right for women to vote when all desired that right, it is equally just to grant the right to a less number who wish to use the ballot. Many men care nothing for the elective franchise and seldom or never use it. But to suggest that all men for that reason should be disfranchised would be deemed preposterous. There are a few women whose conditions are so pleasant that they want no change, and a much larger number who have become accustomed to the limitations imposed upon them; they have walked so long in the narrow groove cut out by custom and habit, that they refuse to try wider and better paths. While the law withholds its protection from young girls, whose minds are too immature to be trusted with the control of a dollar's worth of property, it is incomprehensible how any mother of young daughters can say she does not want to vote. Yet, strange as it may seem, there are such women, and they organize anti-suffrage societies and petition our law-makers to continue the disfranchisement not only of themselves, but of their sisters, who possess a more vigorous mentality, and are interested in problems of government and who desire the ballot to help solve those problems.

Three Queens.

There have been better exhibits than three queens, perhaps, but it is a long time since the world has had more to talk about than just that combination, which is conspicuous to the world at present. Victoria will be the uppermost word in the minds of millions of her subjects, for the sixtieth anniversary of her reign is now the basis of the greatest celebration the British empire has ever witnessed. That's all right enough for Englishmen, but on this side of the water the other two are of more immediate concern. The dusky woman who has written a letter to Mr. McKinley from Honolulu, or about the country out there at any rate, is sharing honors with that other obstreperous royal female, the queen of Spain. On one side we have Cuba; on the other Hawaii. Of course Hawaii is not in a state of insurrection, but the ex-queen of that miniature republic is, and if Mr. Cleveland could testify no doubt he would say that she is extremely uncalled for and untimely. It is a pity that a queen who has so much energy, without a kingdom to match, should be out of a job, for if she only had a situation in some such a place as Madrid, where the Cuban war is directed, she might with her persistence settle the Cuban business and thus clear away the Cuban annoyance that we have on one side of us and herself that we have on the other. Three queens look very pretty under some circumstances, but odds, fish what a volume of talk and perplexity they can sometimes give rise to, and what bother they are able to make!—Pittsburg Times.

Georgia's Hottest Day.

ATLANTA, June 28.—All heat records in Georgia were broken yesterday, and a number of fatalities throughout the state have resulted. Two deaths have occurred in this city, and more are expected. The thermometer registered 104 yesterday afternoon, and people were compelled to stay indoors. Several horses were overcome on the streets, and a dozen bicycle riders out near Fort McPherson were carried into a neighboring drug store unconscious. John M. Thomas, a cotton planter living near Zebulton, died on a railroad train. The night brought no relief from the intense heat.

HOW TO FIND OUT.

Fill a bottle or common water glass with urine and let it stand twenty-four hours; a sediment or settling indicates a diseased condition of the kidneys. When urine stains linen it is positive evidence of kidney trouble. Too frequent desire to urinate or pain in the back, is also convincing proof that the kidneys and bladder are out of order.

WHAT TO DO.

There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed, that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp Root, the great kidney remedy, fulfills every wish in relieving pain in the back, kidneys, liver bladder and every part of the urinary passages. It corrects inability to hold urine and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to get up many times during the night to urinate. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists, price fifty cents and one dollar. For a sample bottle and pamphlet, both sent free by mail, mention the REPUBLICAN and send your full post office address to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghampton, N. Y. More Trouble in Crete.

CANEA, Crete, June 28.—An armed force of 1,200 Mussulmans made a sortie from Canea last night, crossed the military cordon and surprised the insurgents at Kanlikastelli, three hours distant. A desperate combat ensued in which thirteen Mussulmans were killed and twelve wounded. The Christian inhabitants of the district are preparing to make reprisals by land and sea.

Later advices show that many Christians were killed as well as many Turks in engagements that preceded the principal fighting at Kanlikastelli. The whole district is greatly excited.

The trouble arose from the encroachments of Mussulman refugees who attempted to pasture their cattle within the limits of the neutral zone.

SHATTERED.

The Precarious Condition of Prof. A. H. Nye.

A Prominent Iowa Educator's Painful Experience as Related by Him to a Newspaper Man.

From the Gazette, Cedar Falls, Iowa.

The la grippe, that dread disease that had such a run throughout this country three and four years since, left many who were previously in robust health with shattered constitutions and seemingly confirmed invalids.

Prof. A. H. Nye, living at No. 2500 Olive Street, Cedar Falls, Iowa, was among the number left by the disease in a precarious condition, his nervous system shattered, and with a general debility of his entire system; no strength, feet and limbs badly swollen, in fact, he was almost helpless. Prof. Nye is a native of New York State, having come west in 1886—a healthy, robust man. He is a school teacher by profession, having served as county superintendent of schools of this (Black Hawk) county, several terms, and he has the respect of all with whom he comes in contact. His helpless condition called forth the sympathy of the entire community. He tried the best medical skill procurable, and spent most of his ready means in the vain endeavor to recover his health, and had about given up completely discouraged. He had stopped taking treatment, being fully convinced in his own mind that there was no help for him, and that he would have to spend the balance of his days as an invalid, a burden to family and friends. Some one who had heard of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, spoke to him about them and urged his giving them a trial. His poor success with eminent physicians made him skeptical and he had no faith in what was called proprietary medicine, and would not listen to this advice for some days. The friend being persistent, however, and having faith in the Pink Pills, would not let up, until he had finally prevailed upon the sufferer to send for a box, which he reluctantly did, and after receiving them decided to give them a fair trial. The first box relieved him in a surprising manner; yet he was not convinced that it was the medicine that helped him, but the weather which had turned pleasant, and did not send for a further supply until he was again about as bad as before taking the pills. Then he concluded he would make another trial, and took three boxes, and today is nearly if not quite as well as before the attack of la grippe. It is needless to state he cannot say too much for Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People, for people who have been left in poor health from la grippe or any other cause. Any one wishing to test the validity of this letter can write Mr. Nye, No. 2500 Olive Street, Cedar Falls, Iowa, and he will cheerfully recommend the medicine, and state his condition before and after using.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills contain all the elements necessary to give new life and richness to the blood and restore shattered nerves. They are sold in boxes (never in loose form, by the dozen or hundred) at 50 cents a box, or six boxes for $2.50, and may be had of all druggists or directly by mail from Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y.

Japan May Defeat Her End.

LONDON, June 25.—The Daily Graphic says editorially to-day:

"Japan is likely to defeat her own ends by addressing a bellicose remonstrance to the United States on the subject of Hawaii. The policy of annexation is not very popular in America, but any attempt at dictation will only be resented, and will strengthen the case for the annexationists by the suggestion of an eventual Japanese annexation."

A dispatch to the Times from Kobe, Japan. says that the Japanese newspapers accuse the United States of bad faith with regard to Hawaii, but that their tone is generally moderate.

The St. Petersburg correspondent of the Morning Post says the Novoe Vremya protests vigorously against the action of the United States as to Hawaii, which it adds, may soon be followed by an attempt to annex Cuba.

"Europe," says the Novoe Vremya, "has every reason to oppose the strengthening of the United States in the New World and must be ready to support Spain if she is threatened with the loss of Cuba."

Somebody Else.

Who's Somebody Else? I should like to know,
Does he live at the North or South?
Or is it a lady fair to see
Whose name is in everyone's mouth?
For Meg says, "Somebody Else will sing,"
Or, "Somebody Else can play,"
And Jack says, "Please let Somebody Else
Do some of the errands today."

If there's any hard or unpleasant task
Or difficult thing to do
'Tis always offered to Somebody Else—
Now isn't this very true?
But if some fruit or a pleasant trip
Is offered to Dick or Jess,
We hear not a word about Somebody Else,
Why? I will leave you to guess.

The words of cheer for a stranger lad,
This Somebody Else will speak.
And the poor and helpless who need a friend
Good Somebody Else must seek.
The cup of cold water in Jesus' name
Oh, Somebody Else will offer,
And cords of love for a broken heart
Brave Somebody Else will proffer.

There are battles in life we only can fight,
And victories, too, to win,
And Somebody Else can not take our place,
When we shall have "entered in,"
But if Somebody Else has done His work
While we for our ease have striven,
'Twill be only fair if the blessed reward
To Somebody Else is given.

Must Muzzle the Dogs.

HARRISBURG, June 23.—The dogs of Columbia and Montour Counties are quarantined for ninety days from June 15, according to an order issued to-day by the State Live Stock Sanitary Board, throuh Secretary Pearson, under the act of 1895.

The board has reason to believe that hydrophobia exists in the vicinity of Catawissa and, therefore, all dogs in these two counties must be strictly confined or firmly secured on the premises of their owners, and when led on the highways must be muzzled. There is a penalty for violating the law. About a week ago three persons in Catawissa were bitten by mad dogs and this led to the order.

Dr. Pearson says that a year ago a mad dog in Berwick, Columbia County, started an epidemic of hydrophobia which was traced across Columbia, Montour, Northumberland and Centre Counties to Bellefonte, the Berwick dogs starting it and other dogs keeping it up in turn until it died out in Centre. Four people died from hydrophobia at the time. The board quarantines the dogs long enough to permit the disease to develop.

Senator Quay at Harrisburg.

HARRISBURG, June 22.—Senator Quay spent several hours in Harrisburg yesterday in conference with Governor Hastings and leaders of the Senate and House on the revenue question. As a result of the senator's visit the leaders have agreed to reduce the school appropriation $500,000 a year and drop the amended inheritance tax bill, and trust to the Supreme Court to declare the original law constitutional. It has also been decided to place no tax on malt liquors, but in its stead double the retail license in boroughs, townships and cities other than those of the first and second classes and cut quasi state charities 20 per cent. A state tax is to be put on brewers and distillers according to their output.

In Memoriam of James P. George.

At about 12 o'clock, Tuesday, May 25th, all that was mortal of James P. George, a former resident of Milesburg, this county, left its frail tenement and fled to the spirit world. The summons came suddenly and death was due to heart failure and infirmities incident to his advanced years. For some time past he has made his home with his son at Bellwood. Shortly before his death he sat down in a rocking chair and remarked that there was a peculiar feeling about his heart. In a few moments thereafter the vital spark had fled.

The subject of this sketch was born at Harper's Ferry, Virginia, where his ancestry had immigrated from Germany several years previous. With his father he came to Pennsylvania at an early date and settled in Mifflin county, near Lewistown, where he learned the trade of a gunsmith, which he followed for many years.

When the call was made for troops to suppress the rebellion he was among those to cheerfully respond. He was mustered into service at Camp Curtin, Harrisburg, Sept. 23, 1862, and served in Co. M, 16th Pa. Cavalry, under command of Col. J. K. Robinson. By reason of disability he was discharged from the service July 9, 1864, after having participated in many hard fought battles, among them being Kelly's Ford, Fredericksburg, Gettysburg, and many other engagements and skirmishes. He received injuries at the battle of Kelly's Ford from the fall of his horse, from which he had always suffered serious inconveniences.

"Too noble, too brave, too patriotic for any mortal tongue to slander," such is the record Comrade James P. George has left.

Deceased was aged almost 85 years. He was married in 1835 to Miss Sarah Brook, of Huntingdon county. This marriage was the result of seven children, four boys and three girls. Two boys and one girl are still living.

Services were held at his late residence at Bellwood, conducted by his comrade, Rev. G. B. Ague, after which the remains were taken to McVeytown, Pa., where they were consigned to the tomb there to await the resurrection morn.

Death of the Father of Charley Ross.

The death of Christian K. Ross recalls the abduction of his son Charley from his home in Philadelphia nearly 23 years ago, and of whom he never heard, although diligent search was made by detectives. The mystery of the disappearance of the boy still remains unsolved, but the belief is that the boy was drowned in the North river by two notorious characters, Mosher and Douglas, who were pursued by officers. Mosher was shot and killed and Douglas declared that Mosher was the only one that knew where the boy was. Mr. Ross was a prosperous merchant at the time of the little boy's abduction, but he spent his entire fortune in his fruitless search. As long ago as December, 1880, he said in speaking of the celebrated case:

"The only tidings I have ever received of Charley since he was stolen was the demand for a ransom of $20,000. If I had paid that I would have had him long before this. As it is, I have spent $60,000 and have not got him. I still have detectives employed and hope in time to find him. I have examined more than three hundred lost children in the search, some of whom had been stolen, but none of them was Charlie."

Snake in Her Stomach.

From Stony Fork, Tioga county, comes the story that a few days ago an operation was performed on Mrs. John Halliday for what was supposed to be cancer of the stomach. Instead the surgeons found a live water snake nearly eight inches long in her stomach. The reptile was as active as though it were in a natural place. Mrs. Halliday thinks she swallowed the snake while drinking from a mountain spring, after dark, last September.

—Chas. R. Kurtz, editor of the Centre Democrat, left Wednesday evening for Niagara Falls, to spend several days with his best girl, who is there with the State Editorial association. Pleasant time, Charles.

Weekly Financial Review.

NEW YORK, June 23, 1897

At times during the week the Stock Market showed reactionary symptoms. Prices have undergone a very substantial advance since the begining of the year, and under ordinary conditions free realizing might be expected. A good deal of profit taking really occurred, and some of the more intrepid bear operators ventured putting out fresh short lines, but only with the effect of strengthening the market and increasing the buying power.

The present situation, however, is so unusual that ordinary standards of judgement must be applied with care, It is true prices have scored a handsome rise, but that does not mean that the limit has been reached. We have just begun to emerge from very unusual drawbacks; from a combination of political and economic derangements such as are only experienced at rare intervals. Those who calculate, therefore, upon a rise of only ordinary proportions ar likely to be agreeably disappointed. The market has fairly started upon an upward course, and it is likely to continue so for some time to come, accompanied of course by fluctuations and reactions incidental to any fair degree of activity.

Thus far Wall Street has merely discounted returning prosperity. The improvement in business at present is greater in sentiment than in fact. The very adoption of a more cheerful tone is however likely to become a powerful aid to business revival. Already there are signs of actual improvement. New York has been the chief centre of pessimism, because here the strain upon credit resulting from the silver craze and trade depression was greatest. This strain has almost disappeared. Our leading bankers are regaining confidence; our most responsible railroad managers are very pronounced in their belief of better times the coming Fall; Those who lead are more willing to take the initiative and many of the evils from which we have been suffering are working out their own correctives. The crop situation is satisfactory. Wheat corn and cotton are somewhat backward, owing to low temperature and excessive moisture; but in spite of drawbacks there is every prospect of abundance. In the agricultural sections of the country trade reports are favorable. Merchants are in a position to stock up more freely and the farmers are gradually getting out of debt; in fact, in some portions of the West they are in a better condition financially than in many years. Cheap freights have often more than compensated for low prices.

The industrial situation is also mproving, and this is a factor increasing importance to Wall Street, in view of our rapid developement in this direction. The iron trade, generally considered a fair business barometer, shows increasing activity, some large orders for pig iron, bar iron etc., having been placed at the Western markets, where prices are low but firm. A better demand is also developing for staple cotton and woolen goods, and in some instances a moderate advance in values has followed. These two prominent industries are still in unsatisfactory condition owing to an excessive productive capacity; but it is encouraging to note a turn for the better which promises to be maintained.

The tariff question will soon be out of the way, and this accounts very largely for the better tone in business circles. The better prospect of currency reform and the abatement of Cuban agitation are also encouraging factors of importance. The condition of our foreign commerce is satisfactory. Exports continue large; and, as the rush of imports to anticipate the tariff must soon cease, there is no prospect of important gold shipments. The Treasury reserve is strong, and before long we shall probably be importing gold, especially if the foreign demand for securities revives as seems not unlikely, for London is bare of our stocks, and opinion over there is steadily becoming more favorably.

Personally, I believe in a higher market. Reactions may be expected, but they will be light, and the trend of values will be unmistakably upwards for some time to come, barring of course unforeseen disaster.

HENRY CLEWS.

The Supposed Corpse Ended the Funeral Ceremonies.

NEWPORT NEWS, Va., June 23.—Miss Clara Bell Purking, a highly esteemed young lady who lives with her parents, near Denbigh, died, as it was supposed, last Friday afternoon. While the funeral services were in progress Monday the corpse arose in its coffin and vigorously protested against being buried. The occurrence caused a veritable sensation in the quiet little hamlet. Miss Purking, according to the story, which was brought to this city today by a farmer, had been ill for several weeks. It was thought that she had pneumonia. Wednesday last she commenced to sink rapidly and on Friday she died—that is, the attending physician pronounced her very, very dead. The con was filled ordered and Miss Purking placed in it. The funeral services were well under way yesterday when, to the great surprise of everybody, the woman ended the proceedings by sitting upright.

"Am I dreaming?" she frantically cried. Then she fell back in a swoon. The physician who had attended the sick girl and signed the death certificate was called and found the woman breathing naturally, although unconscious. He could offer no explanation for the strange occurrence.

MEETING OF THE MATTERNS

Second Reunion at Warriorsmark on Thursday.

THRONGS OF PEOPLE PRESENT

Celebration of the 171st Year of the Mattern Family in America—Bishop John H. Vincent a Distinguished Guest-

TWO THOUSAND IN ATTENDANCE

The second reunion and basket picnic of the Mattern family, celebrating the 171st year of the family in America, drew together an immense throng of people in Funk's grove, Warriorsmark, Thursday June 24th. It comprised hundreds of the Matterns, hundreds more of relative of the Matterns, and hundreds yet more of friends of the Matterns. It was a gathering of sturdy sons and daughters of sturdy stock, people who never do things by halves, hence the big gathering and its conspicuous success, for the Mattern reunion means that the Matterns are bound to reunite, that nothing of the ordinary blockade pattern can keep them apart, and that when all are together, harmony reigns supreme and everybody has a jolly, sociable time.

Every train carried hosts of picnickers to Warriorsmark, and the excursionists from Tyrone and Scotia were met at the depot by the Warriorsmark band whose music added to the liveliness of the occasion. When the last morning train had arrived fully two thousand people had gathered in the shade of Funk's grove. It was an ideal day and there was nothing to mar its pleasures. The local committee had arranged a platform in the grove, which was prettily decorated with mock orange blossoms, laurel, roses, ferns and spruce. Here the morning's exercises began at 11.15 o'clock when the president, Rev. John A. Mattern, of Newton Hamilton, called the meeting to order. The exercises were interspersed with music by the Warriorsmark and Scotia bands. The opening prayer was offered by Rev. Harrison Mattern, of Stormstown, after which Prof. Lewis Mattern, of Warriorsmark and Baltimore, delivered the address of welcome.

The response was delivered by John W. Mattern, of Philipsburg, who called up reflections on the 171st anniversary of the family in America, referring to its life in this country, looking over the past and speaking of the length of time represented from different standpoints, especially of the changes and improvements that have been wrought in our country. Mr. Mattern referred to the amusements of olden times, the cheer, fun and glee, comparing the old with the new, the comparison not suffering from pessimism, but the optimistic idea being prominently advanced. He spoke of the opportunities that come to the young men of today, opportunities that should be grasped and improved. Referring to the changes that have taken place since the last reunion, Mr Mattern spoke in tender remembrance of the faces that are missing, but said the gathering of today should not be sad and gloomley because of bereavements that have been inevitable. The family have gathered today to be joyful, to greet one another with good cheer, and to make it a day of gladness, a day truly of union, a day of handshaking.

David Johnson Mattern, known all over this country as "Davy J.," a venerable hero who possessed a genial smile for every one; he, too, joined the ranks of spirits passing by, long after the allotted time to general man; almost 83.

Samuel Mattern Fulton, of Margaret of George, who honestly earned his bread by the work of the plow, will plow no more; four score years sufficed, and now the mound over him is marked with the stars and stripes. He was a hero of the civil war.

John B. Mattern, of Buffalo Run, in the adjoining county of Centre, reached his three score years and ten, then passed over to the portals of the unknown. He was an enthusiastic and energetic worker in the Mattern reunions and was chairman of this year's executive committee at his death. In the language of another:

We mourn thee, brother! and affection's tear
Has fallen with heartfelt sorrow on thy bier.

Kind hearted Julian Parks, who so prominently appeared in the picture of the last reunion will not appear in the picture of the next. She too has walked with the venerable ones to the other shore.

It is with sadness that we mention the death of Dr. William K. Mattern, of Philadelphia. In the prime of life he was suddenly cut down, and today we will not have that live active and interesting doctor with us that we did two years ago.

The President, Rev. John A. Mattern, next delivered a brief address.

It was then the noon hour, and the main feature of a picnic came quickly in evidence. Bulging baskets were brought forth, the good things were quickly spread before picnicers, and the crowd of hungry Matterns satisfied the unfailing Mattern appetite. A general good time followed, friendships were made and renewed, and everybody seemed determined to crowd enjoyment into every minute.

The afternoon meeting attracted even greater crowds than in the morning. Bishop Vincent made an eloquent address. Other addresses were made from the assembled eloquence of which the family has a goodly quantity. In the evening Bishop Vincent lectured in the Methodist church.

Following the responsive address Dr. W. H. Flenner, in a clear, distinct voice, read a number of letters from absent relatives, and then presented the Memorial to those deceased since the last reunion. The memorial is as follows:

To the memory of the relatives who have died since the Mattern family reunion of June 13, 1895:

"Death is the crown of life.
Death wounds to cure! We fall, we rise, we reign."

"We think of those departed
Beyond the troubled stream,
The fond and loving hearted
Of whom we often dream:
'Tis but a cloud that's hiding
The shore where they are met,
The line of that dividing
Is all unmeasured yet."

Venerable ones that met with us in 1895 will not meet with us today, they are dead.

Mrs. Catharine Mattern Gray, of George Mattern of George, known throughout this country as "Aunt Katy," who lived in the beautiful valley of Half Moon, Centre county, Pa., at Stormstown, died at the ripe old age of 93.

Mrs. Elizabeth Jones, of Tyrone, Pa., to whom all her acquaintances were so endeared that they called her "Aunt Betsy," crossed over into Beulah land at the good old age of four score and eight. Venerable indeed and useful and godlike to the end. She was a dutiful wife, a loving mother, an exemplary christian and charitable to all.

The Cigarette Evil.

Various measures have been tried in different states to stop the use of cigarettes by the young but without much success. The most common plan has been the passage of a law forbidding the sale to boys under a certain age, as 16 to 18 years. It has been found impossible, however, to enforce such statutes with any vigor and in most cases small boys seem to smoke as much six months after the passage of such a law as before.

A new policy is now to be tried in some states, by which a license fee or tax is to be required of a dealer, large enough, some think, to drive many out of business. A city ordinance has just gone into effect in Chicago by which an annual fee of $100 must be paid in advance, and now a few candy stores near the public school buildings will abandon the sale of cigarettes rather than take out a license. In Iowa the legislature proposes a tax of $300 on every person who deals in cigarettes, which will be prohibitory in most cases.—Exchange.

Interesting Grange Meeting.

The Correspondent of the Centre Democrat of June 15th has the following in regard to the proceedings of Rebersburg Grange:—

GRANGE MEETING:—We are told the following were proceedings of the grange meeting last Saturday afternoon at Rebersburg: Mrs. Henry Meyer read an essay on "Memory and its training," which pleased the grange so well that it has been decided by that organization to have it published. Mr. Bruce Moyer read a selection on "Labor and Capital," The last essay was by Henry A. Detwiler, subject "A comparison between the English and American goverments." This we are told was very able and interesting. Mr. Detwiler has always been an arduous student of government, as well as of politics. The grange has requested him to write a series of papers on English and American government, a subject in which the ladies also became interested. The next meeting will be one week from the coming Saturday in the afternoon, when Mr. Jos. K. Moyer will read an article on "Trusts, monopolies, etc., their history and use and abuses."

Meeting of C. E. Officers.

A meeting of the officers of the County Christian Endeavor Society was held Thursday evening, in the Presbyterian chapel, for the purpose of making the necessary arrangements for the convention to be held at Howard, Wednesday and Thursday, September 1st and 2d. A committee on program was appointed, of which Mr. Samuel Taylor, of this place, is chairman.

The officers that were present to take part in the meeting are as follows: Miss Louise Hensyl, of Howard, vice president; Mr. Robt. Irvin, of this place, district secretary; Miss Elsie Long, of Howard, recording secretary; Miss Elizabeth J. Stroop, of Milesburg, corresponding secretary; Miss Rose Levy, of Milesburg, treasurer. No definite time was set for the next meeting.

Captured Three Eagles.

Sam Grimes and Wm. Dunlap, two Philipsburg woodsmen, captured three bald eagles on last Saturday. The men were in the mountains cutting pine props, when they discovered the nest. Though it was almost on the top of a great pine tree, one of them climbed up to investigate, whereupon the old bird flew off her nest uncovering three young ones, probably the size of a chicken. They were taken out and carried into Philipsburg, where they are the objects of marked attention.

MASONIC OUTING AT HECLA.

Grand Picnic, Social Dance, Interesting Ball Game and Brilliant Fireworks.

The grand outing of the Masonic fraternity, at that beautiful pleasure resort, Hecla Park, is now over, but the success and enjoyment attending it will not soon be forgotten. The attendance Thursday was over 1,500 and that of Friday was much greater, notwithstanding the threatening weather.

Masons and their families were present from Centre, Clinton and Clearfield counties and the excessive heat made a day in the woods extremely pleasurable.

The consolidated band of Coleville and Milesburg was present and enlivened the occasion by some beautiful music. An orchestra was also present to furnish music for the very successful dance, which was held in the large pavilion during the afternoon and evening. The dance floor has been increased to almost twice its former size, and the floor is in the best of condition.

Thursday evening was a brilliant display of fireworks, after which the Masons and their families came up to Bellefonte, where ample arrangements had been made to entertain them in royal style.

DUBOIS VS. PATTON.

The game of ball scheduled between the Defiance, of Altoona, and Patton clubs proved to be none other than DuBois vs. Patton. The DuBois club presented but eight men, their catcher, Kirschart, having missed the train. This caused them to play Miller behind the bat—the receiving end of battery instead of pitching—Dale, of Patton, filling in as 9th man.

Patton won the choice and commenced scoring in first inning, on two hits, stolen base, passed ball and sacrifice. Again, in 2d inning, Riley hit for two bases, Cotton struck out, Baker hit safe, Hile followed with a nice single, scoring Riley, Dale hit to Shaw who caught Hile at plate, who had advanced to 3d on stolen base and passed ball; Clyffler struck out. After this inning Shaw permitted but one hit, retiring Patton in 1, 2, 3 order, excepting in 7th inning, when the only hit after 3d inning being made, followed by a base on ball and Shaw's error filled the bases=no one out—fast fielding on the part of McQuown and Miller's coaching from behind the bats retired the next three batters For DuBois, McQuown doubled, stole 2d and scored on Hewitt's hit. In 3d inning McLaughlin's error, base on balls to McQuown, Adams' single, LaBoard's walk, Hewitt's life, coupled with Miller's hit, scored four runs. Again, in 4th inning, McQuown's base on balls, LaBoard's sacrifice and Hewitt's hit tied the score. From this to finish the game was replete with all the elements of excitement. With the score 6 to 6 in DuBois' half of 9th inning, Mead hit for two bases; Captain Miller at this point sprung a surprise in calling Tyson to bat for Drily—as Dan afterwards explained, "at this stage of the contest he wished to unnerve the opposing pitcher;" Tyson sacrificed Mead to 3d—one out—6 to 6—runner on 3d. Miller whispered "sacrifice" to Dale as he stepped to the plate. The first ball pitched Dale reached out his bat; "third and Dan pushed it quietly down towards 1st, while Mead scampered home with the winning run.

The game was witnessed by the Masonic excursionists and was "play ball" from the first inning. All present say the contest was of the cleanest order they had ever witnessed, no word or action to mar the feelings of players or lookers-on.

The features of the game were McQuown's all round playing.

The following score will be of interest:

Watson Failed to Appear.

ATLANTA, Ga., June 22.—The Georgia Populists gave a strange performance here to-day in a convention designed in the brain of Tom Watson for the purpose of demolishing Marion Butler as a leader. At the last hour Watson failed to put in an appearance, and the smallest gathering of Georgia Populists held since the party had its birth In this State dragged out a weary afternoon of dull proceedings, doing nothing which seriously menaces the future of Chairman Butler.

A bout 200 delegates were present, and there was an undercurrent of opposition to Watson, which manifested itself in several minor questions of policy. Some time was taken in a heated debate over contesting delegations, and the matter was finally settled by seating both delegations.

Was a Red-Hot Fight.

CLEVELAND, O., June 23.—A running fight between villagers and burglars occured at Falls Junction this morning. The burglars broke into the office of the Austin Powder company and blew open the safe. The residents heard the explosion and, arming themselves with shotguns, they opened fire upon them Dozens of shots were exchanged, and the burglars finally escaped by taking horses from a neighboring pasture. One of the burglars was badly wounded, but escaped.

Three Boys Drowned While Bathing

Will It Keep?

In reply to a correspondent asking Mr. Speer about his Oporto Grape Juice, he says he will warrant it to keep any length of time in bottles if they are kept full and well corked. The Juice is not likely to keep long after allowed to come in contact with atmosphere over 40 degrees temperature. It is excellent for invalids.

EVANGELISTS IN PHILADELPHIA.

The Men of God Reaping the Harvest In the City of Brotherly Love.

The many friends of evangelists Weaver, Weeden and Vandeventer will be glad to know that after the usual hard struggle against jealousy, prejudice—that hardest of all human weaknesses to overcome—and the devil, they are rapidly winning the respect, love and confidence of those with whom their lot has been cast, and their friends are becoming legion. Many conversions are resulting from their efforts, perhaps the most notable among them being the conversion of a noted infidel, during the meeting on Monday evening of this week. Being impelled by some power which, according to his own confession he could not define, he attended the service at the tabernacle, the first time for many years he had in any way come under Divine influences, and there the hardest heart was melted, the Divine spark was kindled into a flame of love toward God and his fellow man, again verifying the promise that God's word shall not return unto Him void.

The evangelists send greeting to all friends and ask for their continued prayers for the success of their work, reminding them also that they are always glad to welcome friends who may visit "the city of Brotherly Love." The tabernacle is located on North Broad and Tioga streets.

Death Of J. C. Blair.

J. C. Blair, the most prominent business man in Huntingdon, died of cancer of the stomach in a private hospital in Philadelphia on Wednesday night.

J. C. Blair was the son of Captain Brice X. Blair, and was born at Shade Gap, Huntingdon county, in November, 1847. He received a common school and academic education, and took a course at Eastman business college, Poughkeepsie, N. Y. He entered business at Huntingdon as clerk in the First National bank. Subsequently he bought a book store about the year 1868. He devoted his energies to the business, adding the printing of stationery thereto, and success crowned his efforts. In 1885 the business had extended to such limits that he began the erection of the large building at the corner of Sixth and Penn streets, Huntingdon, increasing the dimensions by another magnificant building on the site of the old Presbyterian church in 1889. The extensive manufacturing establishment is known as the J. C. Blair Manufacturing company, and has trade with all parts of the country. J. C. Blair was elected chief burgess of Huntingdon several terms. He was a director in the First National bank. Mr. Blair was a member of the Presbyterian church and a trustee for a number of years. He was a member of the committee of the presbytery appointed to prepare a history of the church and gave valuable aid in the preparation and publication of the work.

Mr Blair will be greatly missed as a business man in promoting the interests of Huntingdon and as a citizen in every walk of life. He would have been 50 years old next November. He is survived by his wife, Kate, a daughter of the late lamented Thomas Fisher.

The funeral took place in Huntingdon Friday.

Awful Experience with Heart Disease.

That Dr. Agnew's Cure for the Heart works like magic, and cures is proven by the testimony of Mr. L. J. Law., Toronto, Can. "I was so sorely troubled with heart disease that I was unable for 18 months to lie down in bed lest I smother. After taking one dose of Dr. Agnew's Heart Cure, I retired and slept soundly. I used one bottle and the trouble has not returned. Sold by J. N. & S. Krumrine.

Both Lost Her.

WASHINGTON, June 24.—To settle a dispute as to which had the better claim upon the affections of a pretty girl, Cyrus V. Gates, of this city, and Dr. Victor B. Rench, of Baltimore, fought to a finish with bare fists Monday night, at an isolated spot just over the District line. Both combatants are now nursing disfigured countenances, blackened eyes and swollen noses and have forever forfeited the girl's affection.

Both were popular young men. Gates was president of the Young Men's Sound Money club, of Washington, and was a leading candidate for the office of recorder of deeds of the District of Columbia.

Several months ago Dr. Rench went to Baltimore to become manager of a large drug store. Several times each week he could be found in Washington, at the home of the girl for whom he battled, and it is now generally understood that they were engaged.

Several days since she fell suddenly ill and Mr. Gates called to learn her condition, when in walked Dr. Rench, and, it is alleged, with an oath in the presence of the ladies, demanded the cause of Gates' visit. This brought out a stinging rebuke from Gates, and only through the diplomacy of the young ladies was a scene prevented.

Mr. Gates wrote the doctor a very plain letter, in which he referred to him as a "dirty cur," and went on to state that if he had any grievance against him it must be settled in private and not before ladies. The Baltimore man at once interpreted this to mean a challenge and the fight ensued.

Miss Mary Woodin Jackson Entertains.

The charmingly appointed tea, Thursday evening, given by Mrs. M. W. Jackson and her daughter, Mary Woodin Jackson, at the handsome home of Col. W. F. Reeder, on north Allegheny street, was the social event of the week. Five hundred invitations were issued and the beautiful house and wide, roomy porches were crowded from 5 until 7 oclock. Mrs. Jackson and her daughter were assisted in receiving by Misses Elizabeth Stone, of Warren; Margaret and Catharine Woodruff, of Knoxville; Grace Philips, of New Castle; Mary Matlack, of Lewisburg; and Molly Knapp, of Rochester, N. Y., all guests of the house and all school mates of Miss Jackson, who graduated at Mrs. Summer's school, in Washington, two weeks ago; these young ladies being assisted by Miss Helen Hastings, of this place. The dinning room was decorated in pink and white, owing to the tea being a pink and white tea. The chandilier was beautifully trimmed with rhododendron and pink ribbons suspended therefrom. Mrs. W. F. Reeder was assisted by Mrs. D. H. Hastings, Mrs. Mollie Valentine and Mrs. John N. Lane in presiding over the artistically decorated tables and the whole affair was pleasingly enjoyable.

Cows Drank Impure Water.

Over twenty cases of typhoid fever having developed in Williamsport during the last few months, the board of health, after making an investigation, reported that the sickness was caused by drinking milk from the Tepel dairy and by using water from the Tepel well. The well was so situated that it received the drainage from the garbage heaps and manure piles in the barnyard, and the cows drank the water from the well. The sale of the milk from these cows has been forbidden for the present.—Lock Haven Democrat.
